

Green Effects Fund FACTSHEET

JUNE 2018

Fund Objectives

The objective of the fund is to achieve long term capital growth through a basket of ethically screened stocks. The fund invests in a wide range of companies with a commitment to either supporting the environment or demonstrating a strong corporate responsibility ethos. Sectors such as wind energy, recycling, waste management, forestry and water-related businesses all feature prominently within the fund. The fund can only invest in the constituents of the Natural Stock Index (NAI) which was set up in 1994 and currently consists of 30 global equities.

Sector Exposure Compared to a Traditional Global Equity Fund

The fund does not invest in banks, oils, mining, metals or large cap technology stocks. From a performance and relative returns perspective this is something that all investors should bear in mind when considering investing in the fund. The overriding investment theme from a sectoral perspective remains that of alternative energy, water, waste management and similar companies with a strong corporate social responsibility (CSR) focus in both their culture and work practices.

Manager's Commentary

The Green Effects Fund NAV price ended May at €210.60 which was a return of +4.11% for the month. Danish Wind Turbine manufacturer, Vestas Wind Systems, reported solid Q1 earnings and maintained its full year 2018 guidance. The group expects to achieve at least €400m of free cash flow during the current year while order book remains robust driven by solid order growth in South America, Asia and Europe. Revenue for the quarter hit €1.69bn while profits were €126m. Kingfisher, the UK home improvement group, had a less positive update during the month with like for like sales dropping more than forecasts. Tomra Systems, the recycling vending machine group, presented an upbeat outlook at an analysts meeting in late May. The groups reverse vending machines help over 35bn used beverage containers to be captured annually while over 750,000 tonnes of metal are recovered every year by its metal recycling machines. Other news of note during the month was the particularly strong move in the US Dollar against the Euro (lower euro/usd) as the ECB noted a weakening in the economic outlook in Euro. Brent Oil traded above $80 during the month as sanctions against Iran added to supply constraints.
